

MATRIMONIAL.

Thomas Daugherty and Miss Fannie Preston, both of Rowland, were married yesterday.

George Reynolds, a widower of 42, and Miss Sarah Cummins, sweet 16, were joined heart and hand at the home of the bride yesterday.

Announcement is made that under no circumstances will divorced persons be married by any of the clergy of Trinity church parish, New York.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Belle Hall, daughter of Mr. James Ballard Hall, to Dr. Carl Lewis Wheeler, of Lexington, was celebrated at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, in Louisville, Wednesday at high noon. Rev. Carter Helm Jones officiating. The wedding was very quiet, only a few relatives and chosen friends being present. The bride wore white crepe de chine over white silk and carried sweet violets. Miss Hall is one of Shelby county's most attractive young ladies and is popular with the best element of Shelbyville society and her many friends regret that she is to leave the county. Mr. Charley McAninch and Miss Mary Lucas, one of Middleburg's most prominent society couples, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Tuesday, the ceremony taking place at the residence of Rev. J. The groom, who was left an orphan in infancy, is a grandson of Col. H. B. McAninch, and is an excellent young man and is to be congratulated on winning his bonnie bride.

Some of the testimony in the Marcum damage trial at Winchester is sensational. Robert Chaney, of Breathitt, testified that Judge James Hargis offered him $500 to kill Marcum and showed him the gun with which to do it. He said that Hargis afterward informed him that he had secured other persons to do the work.

As evidence to prove the statements of Attorney Byrd that Felix Feltner had been offered $1,500 to enlist Mose Feltner on the side of the defendants in the Marcum damage trial, and of Mrs. Marcum's statement that Feltner had been offered $1,000 to leave and take other witnesses, Miss Donaldson, book-keeper in the Winchester Bank, testified that last September Feltner deposited $1,500, previous to which time he had no account there, and on Dec. 7, 1904 was added to the Feltner account.

Creditors of John Alexander Dowie are talking of another movement to put Zion City in the hands of a receiver. They claim that the report that the receivership debt had been settled was incorrect; that $125,000 is still unpaid; that new obligations have been assumed and that Dowie's personal liabilities amount to $3,000,000 or $4,000,000. They assert that Zion City is dwindling in population and that a financial crisis is imminent. Zion City officials deny all these statements and insist that Zion is in better shape than before the receivership a year ago.

Like GRANDMA used to make. You have often wished you could get some Apple Butter which would taste like it used to when Grandma made it. Possibly her own wouldn't taste now just as it did in those days, down on the farm, but we have just received some which seems to us just like the good old kind. It is Heinz Apple Butter—one of the 57 varieties—made as those products all are, pure, clean and good. We don't care to say more about it. We would rather you would taste it and judge for yourself. THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

E. C. WALTON

THE many admirers of the Lexington Democrat will learn with regret that Mr. W. P. Walton has sold that paper to the Lexington Herald and that it will be consolidated with its former competitor. They will be glad to know, however, that Mr. Walton made a snug sum by the deal. Mr. Walton's ownership of the Democrat has been a rather remarkable one. The paper sunk fully $20,000 as a stock company, but he made it a paying investment from the very start and fully convinced the people of the Blue Grass Capital that a third paper could be made to pay in Lexington. His retirement from the journalistic field, which he has so long honored, will be greatly regretted by the press and public of Kentucky. Mr. Walton will not engage in other business for the present.

THERE are indications that the campaign for the amendment to the State constitution abolishing the secret ballot and restoring the old viva voce system of voting at elections will begin early and be maintained until a substantial majority has been assured for the measure. It ought to pass and become a law, for the secret ballot has been productive of far greater frauds, greater corruption, greater evils and eyes injurious, than any other system of voting known to mankind.

EX-GOV. SIMON BOLIVAR BUCKNER and Basil W. Duke, ex-Confederate soldiers and until a few years ago high in democratic councils, are members of a committee organized to solicit funds with which to defend Caleb Powers. What a pity it is that these once good and much beloved citizens had not joined the silent majority before they slipped over to the republican ranks and, worse still, joined the detestable band of assassination sympathizers.

JUDGE BURNAM, of the Court of Appeals stepped down and out Saturday to make room for Judge James E. Cantrell. Judge Burnam made a good judge and had the sense to know when to quit the game without being made to do so. He had too much political wisdom to try conclusions with the Scott county jurist.

THAT Mr. Samuel W. Menefee is a born newspaper man is proven in the splendid Christmas edition of the Advocate he issued Friday last. It contained 20 pages of good local matter, short Xmas stories and well set advertisements galore. It was a "hummer" indeed.

Persons who have made inquiry concerning the Hunter-Edwards-White contest from the 11th district, are inclined to the opinion that Dr. Hunter will be allowed to retain his seat in the 58th Congress. Dr. Hunter's previous service in Congress has given him a wide acquaintance here, and as between two republicans, the majority members are said to prefer Hunter.—Washington Dispatch

THE Guitar and Mandolin Recital by Miss Margaret Lewis and pupils, assisted by Prof. Henry Saxton, of Lexington, was all and more than had been anticipated. In fact it was one of the most thoroughly enjoyable entertainments ever given in Walton's Opera House. The program opened with a march, which was beautifully rendered by Misses Lewis and Neil Warren and Master Harry Eichenberger on mandolin and Prof. Saxton on the guitar, with Virginia Bourne as piano accompanist. Dr. Fallis' throat was out of condition and he could not sing the solo promised. Miss Berta Jean Penny's whistling solo was a feature of the evening and the applause given her was so great that she appeared a second time. Miss Lewis and Prof. Saxton's guitar duet fully merited the applause given it. The comedy, "Old Maids' Tea Party" participated in by Misses Burch, Phillips, Alcorn, McClary, VanArsdale, and others was very amusingly presented. The costumes of the old maids were those of a hundred years ago and very ridiculous in this advanced, dressy age. Miss Lewis, pupils and Prof. Saxton favored the audience with a medley of operas, after which Miss Lillie Leavell, of Garrard, sang very beautifully "For All Eternity" and "Sing On," with violin obligato by Prof. Saxton. The applause given her splendid effort was almost deafening. On encore she sweetly sang "Annie Laurie." Prof. Saxton's guitar medley-solo was so good that he had to make a third appearance. He is truly the greatest guitar player in the State! Vestal Virginia, with Miss Ida Moore as Sybil and Misses Margaret Warren, Claudia Eaton, Josephine Brady, Mary D. Kennedy, Mary Mobley, Mary Burdette, Kate and Dora Pence and Alma Reynolds as Virgins, was a pleasing part of the program. The young ladies acted their parts well and are to be congratulated. While the audience was not as large as the delightful entertainment deserved, we are glad to state that Miss Lewis lost no money. Our people owe her a vote of thanks for the pleasant evening she was instrumental in giving them.

KINGSVILLE.
A merry Xmas!
Plenty of the beautiful on the ground and more falling.
The stores all have very extensive Christmas stocks.
Master Estell Gooch is agent for the Pennsylvania Grit and delivers that excellent paper to his patrons every Saturday morning.
George T. Bradley is here on a visit to his parents. Mr. W. R. Campbell has sold his property in Lexington and contemplates building a cottage and moving his family here. They will be quite an acquisition to our town.
Little Miss Dora Rigney and Master Will McCarty will go to Harrison, Tenn., soon to visit Miss Etina and Master Will Baker. Manfred Chiv-lette went to Highland the first of the week to see a belle of that place. Ed McCarty is buying in Casey.
It certainly pays to advertise, especially in a paper like the INTERIOR JOURNAL. We know whereof we speak, for we've had some experience in that line. Our "ad" in Tuesday's issue of the loss of a "gold-headed umbrella and a Saratoga bag" was quickly responded to by the finder, Mr. John Babgh, at Highland, and duly delivered to the loser. What would we do without the "cheapest and best?"

To Get Rid of Freckles.
In the January Delineator, in the department "Good Looks," Dr. Eleanor Rogers gives the following recommendations for getting rid of freckles which will be welcomed by many who are troubled with these disagreeable blemishes:
"For removing freckles use colorless iodine. This can be made by adding one part of pure ammonia to three of tincture of iodine. After standing a day or two the iodine will become white. Apply the iodine to each freck-le with a camel's hair brush, or better, by means of a swab made by wrapping a wisp of cotton around a toothpick.
Apply only enough to cover the freck-le. Use it night and morning until the skin is reddened, but not too much irritated. The pigment of the freckle is deposited in the upper layer of the skin and that must be destroyed in order to get rid of the pigment. Lemon juice is very useful to keep the skin white and to prevent the deposit of coloring matter, which makes the blemishes of moth patches and freckles."
A young Oxford student one day received an unexpected visit from his pretty sister, and was very indignant that she came without a chaperon.
"Look here," said the young man, "I will not have any of the fellows see you in my room, so if anyone knocks at the door you just get behind that screen." In a few minutes a knock was heard and the girl ran behind the screen as her brother went to open the door. An old gentleman stood on the threshold, who after apologizing for his intrusion, said: "I am just home from Australia and many years ago occupied these rooms. Would you allow me to look at them once again?" "Certainly sir, come in," said the student. "Ah," exclaimed the old man, "everything is just the same. Same old table, same old fireplace, same old screen." Then catching sight of the girl: "By Jove, same old dodge!" "Sir," exclaimed the student, "that is my sister." "Gad sir," was the rejoinder, "same old lie."—

Bill Nye as a Dairyman.
"When I was young and used to roam about the country, gathering watermelons by the light of the moon, I used to think I could milk anybody's cow; but I don't think so now. I do not milk the cow unless the sign is right, and it hasn't been right for a good many years.
The last cow I tried to milk was a common cow, born in obscurity, kind of self-made cow. I remember how her brow was low, but she wore her tail high; and she was haughty, oh, so very haughty! I made a commonplace remark to her, one that is used in the very best society, one that need not give offense. I said 'so'—and she 'soed.' Then I told her to 'hst'—and she 'histed.' But I thought she overdid it. Just then I heard something crash through the window of the barn and fall with a thud—sickening thud—on the outside.
"The neighbors came in to see what it was that caused the noise. They found out that I had done it getting through the window. I asked the neighbors if the barn was still standing.
They said it was. Then I asked them if the cow was injured much. They said she seemed quite robust. Then I requested them to go in and calm the cowa little and see if they could get my plug back off her horns.
"I am buying all the milk now of a milkman. I select a gentle milkman, who will not kick, and feel as though I can trust him. Then if he feels as though he can trust me, it's all right."

Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.
"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J.
W. Smith, of Julliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation, these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Headaches, granulated lids, styes, pain in and around the eyes, nervousness, etc., are often the results of eye strains. We straighten crossed eyes without the knife, scissors or pain. We use no medicine in examination or treatment of the eyes, nor do we perform any surgical operation.
Results Count—Dr. Murray fitted glasses for me that have given most perfect satisfaction, more than any I ever had. The glasses fitted for my aunt, Mrs. Dudderar, of McKinney, are also perfectly satisfactory.
